They get a LOT here so it is important to know when enough is enough. Some dogs will go home sore or with worn out pads because they are not used to so much play. If you do not tell us, he may get over played here and that is not the kind of tired we want them to be feeling while here or after returning home.

We shall call you immediately if your dog passes away in our care and make arrangements with you immediately.

Is there anything else we need to know about? Information helps us help you.
